DEPARTMENT REPORTS

REPORT OF THE SUPERINTENDENT OF SCHOOLS

Gentlemen of the School Board:—

I respectfully submit the following report concerning the schools of Antrim for the year ending February 15, 1917.

The changes in our teaching force during the year past include the resignations of Misses Ruth T. Humiston, Ethel M. Colburn and M. Eckless Nay near or soon after the beginning of the summer vacation, that of Miss Elsie M. S. Woll in October, and of Miss Susie A. Maxwell in December. Miss Myrtie K. Brooks was transferred from the No. Branch school to the South school where she began work in Sept'r. Teachers engaged to fill the vacancies were Miss Ada M. Hill of Hinsdale, N. H., a recent graduate of Smith College, for High School vacancy; Miss Jessie Butterfield, a graduate of the Antrim High School, for the North Branch school; Miss Susie A. Maxwell, also a graduate of the Antrim High school, for the East school; Miss Sarah L. Baker of Morrisville, Vermont, a graduate of the Johnson Normal school and also of Pratt Institute, to succeed Miss Woll as supervisor of manual arts, and Miss Alice Paige, a graduate of the Antrim High school, to follow Miss Maxwell at the East school.

In our high school work, we have now come to the fourth year since the introduction of the Agricultural and Domestic Science curricula. We have, therefore, arrived at a time when it may be well to survey the situation and, as it were, take account of stock to see whether the policy inaugurated nearly four years ago was one that has been justified by the experience since acquired. If I may be allowed to state my own personal belief in the matter, I will say without hesitation, that the present subjects offered in our high school are far better adapted to the needs of the community that were subjects of the curricula in use previously. That does not mean that we have reached the final solution of what is the best that we can do for the rising generation, but it does mean that we are approaching nearer to the desired goal. In this connection, it is interesting to note that agricultural courses are now offered in thirty, and domesic science courses in sixty of the ninety-one high schools of the state. This remarkably rapid spread of the practical arts courses seems to be in itself an indication that they contain material more useful and better suited to modern day needs than were the subjects usually included in English and science cirricula.

For two or three years penmanship has been receiving more attention than previously in most of the elementary schools of the town. The results of the training in this art have been apparent for some time. Many of the pupils have secured buttons indicating that they have reached a certain plane of proficiency in handling the pen, and several have succeeded in obtaining tokens which indicate that they have acquired a very satisfactory and commendable degree of skill in this useful art.

Another subject that has been emphasized this year is the analysis of sentences by the use of the diagram, with the hope that the pupils may better understand grammatical relationships when the words are arranged so as to show in a graphical manner what words belong to and modify the meanings of other words. The results thus far seem to show that the use of the diagram in moderation assists the pupils quite materially in gaining an insight into what is considered by many a hazy and difficult subject. If we should follow the new State Program of studies closely, we would omit the finer distinctions entirely, and give no English grammar beyond the sixth grade. In its place we might have a foreign language. Indeed, we might go further, and organize all grades above the sixth into a six year high school as is being done in some places—a scheme that has its advantages which may be worth considering.

FREDERICK L. KENDALL,

Superintendent of Schools.

REPORT OF THE HEAD MASTER OF THE HIGH SCHOOL

Mr. F. L. Kendall,

Superintendent of Schools:—

I respectfully submit the following report concerning the Antrim High School for the year ending February 15, 1917.

Our graduating class in June, 1916, consisted of four boys and four girls. One of the boys is continuing his education at New Hampshire College with marks which speak well for himself and also for our school system.

Would that more of our boys and girls could be instilled with the idea that graduation from High School should not be the last rung in their educational ladder before they step out into the world.

The total enrollment this present school year is 52; 19 boys and 33 girls. Our enrollment should have shown a big increase if so many families had not moved away from town. The present membership is 48. Nine of these are tuition pupils. By classes we have 11 Seniors, 8 Juniors, 12 Sophomores and 17 Freshmen.

A vigorous campaign against tardiness has resulted in a record of which all should be proud. This is an improvement that the State Department will be glad to see. We believe that many of the absences could and should be eliminated and we ask the co-operation of parents and pupils in furthering this aim.

Along with a better school spirit has come an improvement in scholarship. It must be recognized that the main standard by which a school is judged is scholarship. Whether this standard is high or not depends upon the ability and earnest endeavors of each individual. Two of the greatest drawbacks to any pupil are: first, not knowing how to study; second, not being able to concentrate the mind on a lesson long enough to get a clear idea of the subject matter at hand. In order to maintain a high standard of scholarship we must encourage better habits of study.

May I at this time extend an invitation to all parents and others interested in the school to visit our classes and see what we are doing.

LEWIS J. BROWN,
Head Master Antrim High School.

REPORT OF SUPERVISOR OF MUSIC

To the Superintendent of Schools:—

The Supervisor of Music submits the following report:

The general outline of music work has been the same as during previous years. The aim is to cultivate good tone quality, accuracy of pitch and to perform with intelligent appreciation music suitable for each grade. The first three grades are using new material this year which contains exceptionally good songs and exercises for the preservation of good tone.

In Grades VII and VIII I have introduced reading in the bass clef earlier this year in hope of having a class of boys better prepared for High school work. The music in this room is in charge of Miss Hill, High school assistant.

Girls Glee Club practice is a part of High school music now in preparation for the school entertainment March ninth. This will be the only exhibition of school music this year.

I would like very much to have a course of music appreciation installed in the school system and to have a phonograph and records for the illustration of same. It is becoming a part of the work and play of most schools today and its value is great both in education and recreation. Next to being a good performer is being a good listener and such a practice cannot help but produce a generation of music lovers. Acquaintance with the masterpieces of music is made by some only through the sound-reproducing machine, and with a little expense it is possible to make music mean much more to many children. Prominent educators today place music in the first rank as a study on account of its practical and character building results and its possibilities as a vocation and as a wholesome employment of leisure time. By exchanging records with other towns the expense could be lessened. I present this thought for your careful consideration.

Another important matter is having some member of the High school teaching staff able to conduct chorus and assist in putting together the parts in choral numbers. There has been an improvement along this line this year. It is also quite necessary that the teachers in district schools be musical and able to teach music, for the limited time of the Supervisor is only a small part of the instruction they should have.

On the whole the music has progressed fully as well, if not better, than before.

GERTRUDE VAN DOMMELE,

Supervisor of Music.

REPORT OF SUPERVISOR OF MANUAL ARTS

To the Superintendent of Schools:—

I respectfully submit the following report of the Department of Manual Arts:

The aim of the work is to help the child get a larger view of life, to appreciate more thoroughly the work of the best artists, to see and love the beauty in his surroundings and to try to increase this beauty, and to prepare him better to decide upon his life work.

In planning the course of study much thought was given to those things which are practical and which will be a help to the child in his everyday life. This course includes the study of great artists and their work, of plant forms, still life, design, harmony, dress design, house decoration and furnishing, poster work which involves the principles of advertising arrangement, and a certain amount of handwork.

In the rural schools the pupils are divided into two classes for the drawing, this plan working very well.

I hope the parents will visit the schools often and see for themselves what is being done.

I appreciate most highly the earnest co-operation of the teachers and the pupils.

SARAH L. BAKER,
Supervisor of Manual Arts.

REMARKS BY THE SCHOOL BOARD

Citizens of Antrim:—

As we review the work of the schools during the year that has just past we feel that the work has been carried on conscientiously and efficiently and that the teachers and scholars have worked together for the best interest of the schools.

As the average attendance at school is the basis of one aid from the State it is for our financial advantage that all parents and children make constant attendance an object to be attained.

During the year we have painted and otherwise repaired the school house in District No. 1, and helped erect an iron fence on the south side of the school lot.

For the next year the house at District No. 2 should be painted and shingled and the house at the Pond should be shingled.

The amount of money required by law for carrying on school work is as follows:

Amount required by law	$1965 00
Text books and supplies	500 00

Flags and appurtenances	10 00
Insurance	100 00

We recommend raising at the school meeting:

Repairs on school property	$400 00
Salaries of school board	150 00
Treasurer	25 00
Truant officer and taking the census	20 00
Clerk	2 00
Additional for support of schools	3000 00

LIBRARIAN'S REPORT

The year just ended has been a successful one in the history of the James A. Tuttle Library. The total circulation of books wihch was about 9,000, is not quite up to that of the past few years but is due to the removal during the year from town of a considerable number of families, the members of which were among the most regular and frequent patrons of the Library.

Several new families from both the west and east sections of the town have taken out cards during the year and are now enjoying library privileges.

The students of the town schools have used the Library more than in former years; the custom of reserving a special section in the stack room for the books used in the special reading required by the several High school classes, has been continued and apparently meets with approval by both teachers and students. The lists containing the special books to be read have been posted in convenient places for the convenience of the young people.

The reference department has been used to considerable extent by members of various clubs and organizations in town as well as teachers and pupils of the town schools. Included among the additions to the reference department are the town history of Pembroke, the history of Northwood, Nottingham and Deerfield, and a four volume edition of the new History of New Hampshire by Stackpole published this summer.

The list of visitors during the year has been extensive and includes those who have registered from many places in each of the six New England states as well as from New York, New Jersey, Ohio, Texas, Washington, California, District of Columbia and from British Columbia.

The reading rooms have been used more the past year than during any other previous twelve months; on the reading tables are to be found the following attractive list of weekly and monthly magazines:—Outlook, Scientific American, Field and Stream, St. Nicholas, American Geographic Magazine, The American Boy, Ladies' Home Journal, Leslie's, World's Work, Literary Digest, Good Housekeeping, Review of Reviews, Munsey's, and Popular Mechanics. Not only are these magazines well read by patrons during the regular library hours but many are loaned outside to those who do not come regularly to the Library. The current magazine for the month is always found on the reading room table.

Among those who have kindly donated books and magazines during the past year are Edward N. Vose of New York, Hon. George A. Cochran, Col. and Mrs. Richard C. Goodell, Mrs. Carl Tewksbury, Mrs. Eva Webster, Mrs. Melvin D. Poor, Mrs. Charles L. Fowler, George McKay, H. Burr Eldredge and Charles S. Abbott. The Antrim Reporter reaches us each week through the courtesy of its Editor, and Mrs. William E. Cram has kindly donated the Review of Reviews for the year.

Respectfully submitted,

SARAH M. ADAMS, Librarian.
